

As legal professionals, we are all part of a community of practice. Staying connected in this community is essential to group collaboration, product durability, and shared understanding throughout the Corps.

In the close knife fight of our everyday lives, it can be difficult to find time to connect with the greater Corps. Sites like Milsuite, Lifelong Learning, and JAGCNet are force multipliers, but only if you use them.

To that end, we are introducing the JAG Connector-a bi-weekly email newsletter that will reach all JALS personnel in the field. JAG Connector will provide you with a snapshot of some of the newest content available on our JAG Corps sites. Additionally, the right side of the JAG Connector provides clickable links for many of our online resources.

Though JAG Connector is not a substitute for checking in to our resources from time-to-time, it is a helpful tool for battling "information fatigue."

We hope you enjoy this resource and find it useful.
